Americans Hold Americans For Ransom.

Officers Peterson and Davis of the Bliss aviation corps, who were on duty with the Big Bend military headquarters at Marfa, when they disappeared, August 1st, were heard from. They fell into hands of bandits in Mexico where aviators had flown by mistake. Bandits held the aviators for $15,000 which sum was demanded today, Aug. 18th, or the aviators be killed. The bandits also had a message that they would kill aviators in the event of military attacks on the American side of border. The message was addressed to Kilpatrick of Candelaria. He in return sent a message to the bandits urging them to postpone the limit fixed in the demand for $15,000 ransom for the lives of the American aviators. Major Walton of the aero unit also received a message from the captured aviators stating the mentioned facts.

The Department in Washington gave close attention to the matter, instructions to the American embassy in Mexico City and to our consul general and to General Dickman, head of the Southern Department, immediate action.

We the lives of the two aviators authorized that West Texas raise the sum of $15,000 in release the men held by bandit President H. M. Fennell of the State Bank left Monday for Texas, to deliver the $15,000. Dawkins Kilpatrick as detailed in the note sent by the bandits before. Mr. Fennell was accompanied by a military guard, commanded by Maj. C. C. Smith. Aviators are watching from the return of the aviators. Feeling against the bandit leader Chico the Big Bend district. Hartmann, one of the two captives, communicated through him with his mother in Minnesota, Monday.

A. J. Clements and H. J. Brown, who had confessed being guilty of the robbery of over $36,000 from the Alamo National Bank in San Antonio August 7th, were convicted by the 37th District Court there Wednesday. Clements' punishment was fixed at six years and Brown's at two years in prison. They were indicted by a special grand jury and the conviction followed within two weeks after the robbery. The money was found in Clements' house a few hours after the robbery and after Brown had confessed to the police and had given the name of his co-partner in the theft, which information led to the arrest of Clements and the recovery of the money.

Don't forget the big dance at the Hondo Auditorium Monday night, Aug. 25th. Willett's Orchestra will furnish the music.

Farmers' Union Convention.

Editor Anvil Herald,

Dear Sir:

I am at home from the State Farmers' Union Convention and my lecturing trip and feel like I should let the people of Medina County know something of what the union is doing.

I lectured in Washington County with much success and the farmers who do not belong to the union are ready to become members when you show them the necessity and benefit in being organized. From there I went to Yoakum, Texas, to attend the State Convention of the Farmers' Union of Texas, and was glad to learn and see that the business people of Yoakum know the necessity of the farmers organizing for protection for themselves and their creditors and if all the business people of the rural towns had studied the question as the Yoakum business men have and helped to organize the farmers instead of fighting organization, as they do in some places, then the foot-ball game in which the farmers' products are handled would soon cease and the loyal business people and the farmers would soon be on a better understanding financially and socially.

Now about the State Convention, it was one of the most businesslike and harmonious conventions I ever attended and it was shown that there is a great deal of good accomplished by the farmers union when the farmers are only partly organized. It was also shown that the greatest enemy the organization has today is the unorganized farmer, the one that says "I get as much good out of it as you and don't need to pay any dues" or the one that says "if they all would join the farmers' union I would join too," and the one that says "I would join the farmers' union but I am afraid my banker or my merchant will not give me credit any more." It seems they don't know that this is a world of organization to-day and he who does not organize with his compatriots for self protection is looked upon as a "scab."

In conclusion I want to say that there was a resolution passed at the state convention of the farmers' union that we put forth all effort to organize the farmers and that we will meet any community that wants to know anything about the organization and explain the same to them. We, as organized farmers, realize the necessity of every farmer belonging to the farmers' union and I will give the warning that if the farmer doesn't strongly organize he will suffer more than ever before, for every other profession as a class is organized and we have to carry their burden.

Yours for organization,

HENRY BENDELE,

Lecturer and organizer of the Farmers' Union.

P. S. Will meet any community that wants to know about the organization.

County Superintendent W. N. Saathoff has again been appointed food administrator for Medina county and will begin a vigorous drive on profiteering in the necessities of existence. There is absolutely no excuse for existing prices and if he succeeds in bringing back conditions to something like normal he will gain the everlasting gratitude of the people of the county. No one will question that one in business has a right to a legitimate profit, but a legitimate profit does not mean a profit ranging from 100 to 200 per cent. Anything above a legitimate profit is profiteering and anyone guilty of such an offense should merit the contempt of the road highwayman who holds one up and goes through his pocket at the point of a gun. In the one instance some physical courage is required, while the other as effectually robs his victim by extortion, the latter requiring no physical courage. Prof. Saathoff is investigating some suspicious prices and if facts should justify his taking action the people should back him to the limit. He rendered the people good service during the war. That he will be able to render them an equal service in times of peace is the wish of all honest men.

SOUTHERNERS PLAN RECONSTRUCTION EXPECT TO COLLECT SUM OF $53,000,000

IN EUROPE—WORK IS TO BE OPENED IN BELGIUM AT ONCE.

Commission Abroad To Study the Situation.—Extensive Program Is Planned—Church Busy In Other Lands.

Nashville Tenn. (Special Correspondence)—On August 29th a commission composed of Bishop James Atkins, of North Carolina, John R. Pepper, of Tennessee, Dr. Belle H. Bennett, of Kentucky, and Mrs. Luke G. Johnson, of Georgia, sails for Europe to arrange for the opening of extensive religious and philanthropic work in Belgium, France and other war-torn countries.

They represent the Centenary Commission and the Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which have set aside $5,000,000 of Centenary funds for religious reconstruction in Europe.

They go with authority to purchase property and open work at once in Belgium and to make a careful survey of the needs in other countries and recommend an adequate program. Orphanages, schools, social centers, religious literature and direct evangelism will be the methods employed.

In some of the countries to be entered the work will be conducted in co-operation with the Methodist Episcopal Church, which is already operating in France, Italy and the Balkans, and is planning to expand its work greatly as a result of the Centenary, which in the two churches brought missionary pledges aggregating more than $150,000,000.

METHODISTS REVIVE ANCIENT CUSTOMS

TWO AND ONE-HALF MILLION MEMBERS TO OBSERVE DAY OF FASTING AND PRAYER.

Centenary Commission Starts Movement To Establish 100,000 Family Altars—Following the Plan of Old Circuit Riders.

Nashville Tenn.—The Centenary Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has named August 29th as a special day of fasting and prayer for the two and a half million members of the church. The Commission has also started a movement to establish 100,000 Family Altars, by having that many homes pledged to observe daily devotions.

This is the revival of ancient customs in the church. It is the part of an intensive campaign which the church has launched in connection with the spiritual side of the Conservation program of the Centenary Movement through which the Methodists raised $53,000,000 in an eight-day drive last May.

The object of the present campaign, as stated by Rev. S. A. Neblett, Secretary of the Department of Spiritual Resources, is to enroll at least 40% of the church members in the prayer league known as the Fellowship of Intercession, to establish 100,000 Family Altars, and to assist in finding a thousand young people to go abroad as missionaries.

August 24-31 is known as Enlistment Week. During this period the seven thousand pastors will urge their members to join the Fellowship of Intercession, to establish Family Altars, and to observe the day of fasting and prayer.

JAPAN TO MODIFY KOREAN RULE.

So Predicts Dr. S. E. Hager, 25 Years a Southern Methodist Missionary in The Orient.

Nashville, Tenn.—That Japan will moderate her rule in Korea is the prediction of Dr. S. T. Hager, recently returned missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Dr. Hager has spent more than a quarter of a century in Japan doing religious work.

"Japan is learning that her success in giving good government to Korea is fraught with difficulties, and that tolerance and good will must take the place of harsh and severe methods.

"The military leaders aim mainly at making their rule thorough and permanent, and naturally there is great temptation to the man of the sword to make his rule severe."

"But democratic ideas are growing in Japan, and more temperate treatment of the subject race will come about."

Dr. Hager says the Christian missionaries in the Orient are elated at the success of the Centenary movement, through which the church raised $53,000,000 for missionary work in all lands.

Millions of this will be spent in the Orient. Hundreds of new missionaries will be sent and there will be a great advance movement in medical work, education and evangelism.

SOUTHERN METHODISTS OUTLINE PLANS FOR HANDLING GREAT CENTENARY FUND.

Organization Will Collect Largest Amount Ever Handled By Any Religious Denomination Anywhere.

The Centenary Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has announced its plan for collecting the $53,000,000 which was pledged for the missionary work of the church in the recent eight-day drive. The plan was prepared and will be directed by Colonel John E. Edgerton of Tennessee, the general centenary treasurer and the director of the department of finance for the Centenary Commission.

Colonel Edgerton is a well known business man. He is president and manager of the Lebanon Woolen Mills, president of the Tennessee State Manufacturers Association, and during the war he was a member of the executive committee of the war industry board appointed by President Wilson.

"Our slogan is no shrinkage, but an increase," said Colonel Edgerton recently. "Just as the Southern Methodist church has surpassed all records in securing pledges for benevolent purposes and has raised the largest sum ever given to any church at one time in the history of the world, so do we expect to set a new record in the collection of these pledges."

An Extensive Organization.

The organization through which these pledges will be collected has four centers of responsibility. The first is a general finance commission with headquarters at Nashville headed by Colonel Edgerton. This commission has prepared the standard plan and will direct the entire movement, handing down to the various bodies throughout the church detailed plans for their guidance.

There will also be a conference cabinet in each annual conference of the church about forty in number. These conference cabinets will be composed of the Conference Missionary Secretary, Conference Campaign Director, the Lay leader, and the Conference Centenary Treasurer. Each of these officials have certain specific duties, and will direct the work of collecting all the pledges in each annual conference.

In each of the four hundred districts of the church there is a similar cabinet composed of the Presiding Elders, the Lay leaders, Campaign Directors and the Chairman of the Methodist Minute Men. The Conference Missionary Secretary is an ex-officio member of all district cabinets. The work of collecting in the districts will be supervised by this district cabinet.

Twenty Thousand Churches.

In each of the 20,000 local churches there will be local cabinets composed of the pastor, the centenary treasurer, the campaign director, the lay leader, the chairman of the minute men, the Sunday school superintendent and the president of the Woman's Missionary Society. This cabinet will do all the actual work of collecting the individual pledges.

The persons who made subscriptions will be divided into lists of twenty-five and the lists will be placed in charge of a certain member of the church cabinet who will collect all pledges as they come due.

One feature of the standard plan is that the local church will be responsible for collecting the full amount of its subscription. If any subscriber dies or meets with misfortune such as to render it impossible for him to pay his pledge, it will be the duty of the church cabinet to secure another person to take the place of the one thus become delinquent.

It is also proposed that every new member who comes into the church shall also be asked to make a contribution to the Centenary fund.

The Centenary fund of $35,000,000 will be used for the church in an extension of its missionary work throughout the world. Several millions will be spent in the devastated regions of France, Belgium, Poland and Russia. Other millions will go to the seven foreign fields occupied by the church—Mexico, Brazil, Cuba, Africa, China, Japan and Korea. Other millions will be spent in the industrial sections of the great cities, in the mountains, among the immigrants, the negroes and the Indians, and in building churches in the missionary territory of the United States.

PLAN TO REPEAT ATTACK OF 1916

Railway Employees' Chiefs Appear at Washington With New Threat to Congress.

$K $1,000,000,000 MORE PAY

Also Demand Nationalization of Other Industries, Following Example of Russian Soviets.

Washington.—It is just three years since the four leaders of the railway brotherhoods, having refused arbitration of their demands, sat in the gallery of the United States Senate and told their watches on the Senators while the memorable vote was being taken on the Adamson Law that gave them $60,000,000 additional wages a year. When the vote was concluded and the four labor chiefs rushed out to the telegraph office and withdrew the order for a nation-wide strike.

That such a scene may be again enacted on a much greater scale is indicated by the startling developments in the nation's capital in the past few days. Now the 350,000 men in the brotherhoods have been joined by more than a million other railroad workers—shopmen, trackmen, telegraphers, clerks, station agents—and demands are many times what they were three years ago.

A Thousand Million Dollars.

On top of a thousand million dollars added wages granted by the Government in the past year and a half, allied workers are asking for another increase of a thousand million dollars.

But more than this, this great body of railroad employees has served an ultimatum on the Government that all railroads of the country must be taken away from their owners and given over to the employees to be operated by them on a communistic sharing plan.

The plan is as daring as any proposed by the Russian Bolsheviks, and it is the threat of a nation-wide strike, with the leaders of the men sitting in the Senate gallery, watching in counting the vote.

To Tie Up All Transportation.

"We will tie up the railroads so that we will never run again if we do not what we want," announced one of the spokesmen, standing within the throw of the Capitol, and an amazing announcement, like an atom from a leader of the Russian Soviet, was instantly flashed over telegraph wires to every part of the country.

The first Brotherhood bomb exploded in Washington at the end of July, the fact has leaked out that the brotherhoods are gathering a propaganda fund of $10,000,000 for intensive drive on Congress. Three thousand dollars, it is announced, has been collected from the members of the unions. This will be used in sign work in the Congressional arts, with the purpose of enlisting the votes of the members of Congress, or of defeating them for election if they do not vote as the brotherhoods dictate. Money will also be spent, it is stated, in senders throughout the country to up the enthusiasm of organized for the brotherhood plan of nationalizing all industry.

We don't get what we want out of Congress we will put this out and put another one in until we give us what we want," is another fact announcement of central propaganda office of the roads in Washington.

One of the immediate purpose to control of the railroads is an upper scheme to gain control of all industries, taking them from owners and putting them under strict management of the organizations, as has been done in Russia as they are attempting to do in Austria.

Reports of the United States administration show that the demand, since it took over the December, 1917, has increased wages by considerably more thousand million dollars, and $90,000,000 a year is being taken of the National Treasury to the deficit caused by the great labor cost.

Big Wage Increases.

Principal advances in wages: To shopmen, $360,000,000; skilled labor, $225,000,000; to the brotherhoods, $200,000,000; to telegraph and agents, $100,000,000; to messes, $110,000,000.

These groups are now demanding increases of from 30 to 40 percent. When the Government takes control of the roads the average of all railroad workers, including all hundred thousand unskilled workers, was $1,000 a year. The demand would raise it to more than $1,500 and it demands would raise it to

Ross Hollaway is again at home, having blown in last Saturday evening. He has the distinction of being among the very first Medina county soldiers to go across and among the last to return. He has seen lots of hard campaigning and took part in some terrific battles but returns to civil life in apparent excellent physical condition. Should you hear some one singing "Watch Am Rhine" do not become excited; it will not mean the advance of a German army. It will only be Ross rehearsing some of his campaign songs as his services as a soldier for the past seven months has been employed in watching the Rhine.

Mr. Fritz Frerichs returned Thursday night from New Jersey where he had visited his son, Rolf, in a military hospital. Mr. Frerichs found his son very low but still in such hopeful condition that he was removed to the hospital of Fort Bayard in New Mexico, where he already arrived. The change of climate will doubtless have a good effect on the young man's health which is deranged by gassing on the battle front in France.

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Whatever your mood, the New Edison will be your faithful companion. It will not "get on your nerves." It will soothe and satisfy, because it brings to you the real art of great artists, just as real as if they themselves came to sing and play for you.

The mere statement that a record is the same as the artist means nothing. The fact that critics of two thousand representative American newspapers have heard Edison artists sing or play in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of their art—and the fact that they have admitted in writing that the New Edison's RE-CREATION did not deviate in the slightest from the singing or playing of the artists themselves, means volumes to the music lover.

Hear the new Edison at our store and you will be convinced that these critics have told the truth.

CASE

KEROSENE TRACTORS

Why You Will Prefer This
Case 15-27

HE view and description of the chassis of the Case 15-27 Kerosene Tractor afford convincing proof that one should study design and materials before deciding which tractor to buy. Checking over and comparing the several tractors you are considering will give you a satisfactory, money-saving purchase.

What we offer on this page is a very brief outline. Complete specifications, illustrations and description are contained in our catalog of Case Kerosene Tractors, which will be sent gladly on request. Every prospective owner of a tractor should have a copy.

This Case 15-27 is conservatively rated. While rated at 15 horsepower on the drawbar it can deliver more than 18. While rated at 27 horsepower on the belt, it can deliver over 33.

Thus we establish a reserve for emergencies. This tractor pulls your plows in hard plowing or five hours under favorable conditions.

With reasonable good footing, this tractor delivers a pull of 3,000 pounds at the drawbar. Its reserve power makes it possible to deliver 4,000 pounds pull, or over. Compare this reserve with others of similar rating.

At belt work this tractor will drive Case 26x46 Thresher with windrower and feeder, or other machinery requiring similar power.

It is 4-cylinder valve-in-head motor, governor controlled, delivers a steady flow of power.

Uniform speed is absolutely necessary for successful threshing and other belt jobs. Be sure that the tractor you buy is as efficient for belt work as it is at the drawbar.

Note that the motor is set crosswise, with pulley mounted directly on the crank shaft and on the same side as the steering gear. This arrangement makes it easier in "lining up" with belt-driven machines. It saves time.

As you study this 15-27, dozens of superiority will appeal.

It is very economical in the use of kerosene. All traction gears are cut steel, enclosed and running in oil. Its perfected air washer prolongs the life of the motor. Hyatt Roller Bearings throughout. Complete accessibility to all parts is afforded by quickly removable covers.

Send today for a complete description of this and other Case Tractors. Familiarize yourself with our latest and best. Become a real judge of tractor values.

LALLEY-LIGHT

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER FOR EVERY FARM

Running Water Is Another Lalley-Light Convenience

Better Light at Lower Cost

Lalley-Light actually costs less than poorer light.

It costs less because of the time it saves and the labor it saves.

It costs less because it gives better light for after-night work.

Because it makes the home more cheerful.

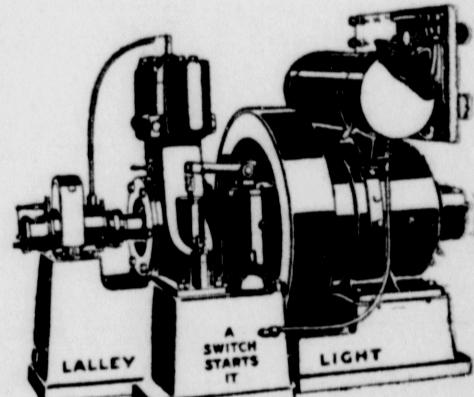

Because its electric power runs the churn, and the separator, and the women can do other needful tasks.

Because it enables you to have running water in house and barn.

Consider Lalleys as an economy, and you will not be wrong—as owners' testimonials show.

GALEN'S FAITH IN NOSTRUM

Early Father of Medicine Claimed Wonderful Virtues for Compound Known as Mithradatium.

Mithradatium was the name of the great antidote of Roman pharmacy. It had from 40 to 50 vegetable ingredients, few of which had any real medicinal value except opium, and these drugs were blended with honey.

It remained for Nero's physician, Andromachus, to put the finishing touches to this wonderful compound. Andromachus added viper's flesh to the formula and called his new compound theria. He wrote some verses dedicated to Nero, describing this medicine and claiming virtues for it which in our day would subject him to prosecution under the anti-trust act. Evidently he believed he had created in this one compound a veritable pharmaceutical monopoly.

Galen, one of the fathers of medicine, went even further. He recommended it as a cure for all poisons, bites, headaches, vertigo, deafness, epilepsy, apoplexy, dimness of sight, loss of voice, asthma, coughs, spitting of blood, tightness of breath, colic, the iliac passion (appendicitis), jaundice, hardening of the spleen, stone, fevers, dropsy, leprosy, melancholy, all pestilences, etc. Nowadays he would probably have included coupon thumb, golf shoulder and movie eye.

As Galen's writing dominated medical thought for over 1,500 years, it is not surprising that this advertisement made Mithradatium, or Theria, a valued remedy. Every physician of note for centuries afterward claimed some improvement on the original formula.

MAKE YOUR OWN DECISIONS

Foolish Habit of Leaning on Others is One That Should Be Sternly Repressed.

Most people who have succeeded in any direction of activity can trace the measure of their success to the habit of deciding things for themselves. One of the greatest temptations we have is to confide in others. By yielding to it we not only become a nuisance to our friends but keep on lowering our own powers of resistance. It is worse than useless to ask the advice of others, because they are rarely so much interested in our troubles as we think they are, or would like them to be. If they were, they would have to know as much about our troubles as we do, to pass judgment, and this we can not tell them even if we would.

Sometimes indeed we may know too much about our own troubles, or in such a way that the continuous thought of them puts them in the wrong perspective; but this situation is only made worse by adding the confusion of another's mind to ours.

By deciding everything for yourself you make mistakes; but every mistake is a valuable future asset. It is the only way you can learn how. Learning how is very necessary. Unless you are willing to do this and stand upon your own ground, your permanent success will be doubly difficult.—Pictorial Review.

Had To Quit Work On Father's Farm.

Kept Going Down Hill—Takes Tanlac
And Begins To Pick Right Up.

"I never saw anyone pick up so fast as my son, John, has since he started taking Tanlac," said A. McGrew, a prominent and successful farmer of Dawson, Okla., recently.

"He suffered awfully from indigestion and a general rundown condition of his system for the past six months," continued Mr. McGrew, "and his kidneys seemed to give him a good deal of trouble and he was going down hill all the time. He had a healthy appetite but right after eating his food would feel like a lump of lead in his stomach and it gave him so much trouble that he got so he would hardly taste a thing on the table. He looked pale and sickly all the time and got thin as a rail and was so weak he just had to quit working on the farm. He just moped around all the time and couldn't get up energy to do a thing. He worried a lot about his kidneys and complained of having severe pains in his side and back and sometimes his back would hurt so bad he could hardly get up out of a chair."

"I read so much in the papers about the good Tanlac was doing so many people that I got some for him and started him on it. He is still on his second bottle, but it has done him a world of good and he is looking much better than he has for a long time. His kidneys don't trouble him any more and he hasn't had a pain in his side or back in some time. He has gained in weight and is stronger too, and is able to get around and do anything he wants. The indigestion don't trouble him any more and he can eat a good square meal without any pain afterward. Tanlac is the only medicine I have bought that has been of any benefit to my son and he is so pleased with what it has done for him that he is telling all his friends about it."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Archduke Joseph of Austria, at present head of Hungary, has appointed a new government with Stephan Friedrich as premier.

If your child is pale and sickly, picks at the nose, starts in the sleep and grinds the teeth while sleeping, it is a sure sign of worms. A remedy for these parasites will be found in WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. It not only clears out the worms, but it restores health and cheerfulness. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Habitual Constipation Cured in 14 to 21 Days

"LAX-FOS WITH PEPSIN" is a specially prepared Syrup Tonic-Laxative for Habitual Constipation. It relieves promptly but should be taken regularly for 14 to 21 days to induce regular action. It Stimulates and Regulates. Very Pleasant to Take. 60c per bottle.

Needful Knowledge.

Hondo People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are many. Disordered kidneys often excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back may ache, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighted down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better endorsed kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Hondo proof of their merit.

O. H. Getter retired painter, Hondo, says: "Several years ago I was taken with a terrible backache and my kidneys acted irregularly. On stooping over it was an effort for me to straighten up again. Nights I had to get up frequently to pass the kidney secretions, which were scanty, highly colored and scalding. I felt tired and worn out all the time and had no ambition to do anything. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and started their use. After taking two boxes of Doan's my back was strong and my kidneys acted regularly."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Getter had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd, of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since."

A Traveling Man's Experience.

You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky. "In the summer of 1888 I had severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take no substitute. I took a double dose of it according to the directions and went to sleep. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping place, a well man."

Governor Hobby has disapproved the appropriation for the carrying on of the teaching of the German language at the University of Texas.

What Is Best For Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents.

A Great Remedy.

The merits of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy are well known and appreciated, but there is occasionally a man who had no acquaintance with them and should read the following by F. H. Dear, a hotel man at Dupuyer, Mont. "Four years ago I used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy with such wonderful results that I have since recommended it to my friends."

There is certainly something in religion. The preachers are getting less pay and doing less quarreling than any other class.

FORD CLEARED; NOT ANARCHIST

JURY IN FAMOUS LIBEL SUIT FINDS FOR PLAINTIFF AND DECLARIES TRIBUNE GUILTY.

DELIBERATE TEN HOURS

Farmer Jury Which Has Spent Three Months in Court Is Out Ten Hours and Then Finds Paper Guilty of Libel.

Mt. Clemens, Mich.—Henry Ford is not an anarchist!

A jury of 12 farmers have said so by their verdict, in which they found The Chicago Tribune guilty of libel when it attached that stigma to the name of the great manufacturer.

"We find the Chicago Tribune guilty and attach a verdict of six cents."

This sentence from the foreman of the jury which for three months has listened to the most famous case of its kind in history and which debated more than 10 hours before it arrived at its conclusion, were the lines of the final act in the dramatic event which has attracted the attention of the entire country.

Henry Ford himself was not in court to share in the triumph. He was in the New Hampshire woods with his friends, Thomas Edison and John Burroughs. Judge Alfred J. Murphy of Mr. Ford's counsel made a formal statement for his principal:

"Ford Is Vindicated."

The important issue has been determined," said Judge Murphy. "Money damages were not sought by Mr. Ford.
He stands not only vindicated but his

HENRY FORD

attitude as an American citizen has been justified after a trial which raised every issue against him that ingenuity and research could invent."

Outside the courthouse crowds had gathered during the evening hours to await news of the jury which had been closed in conference since morning.
As the courtroom emptied after the announcement of the verdict and the news of the decision rendered spread, cheer after cheer broke forth and a hand, returning from a picnic, stopped to add its brass notes to the din.

There was a tense moment when the jurors filed into the box for the last time. Their foreman, in a voice shaking with the emotions of the moment, spoke in such a low tone that he could scarcely be heard. The clerk read back the formal verdict:

"You do say upon your oath that the said defendant The Tribune company, is guilty in the manner and form as the said plaintiff hath in his declaration in this case complained against him and you assess the damages of the said plaintiff on occasion of the premises over and above his costs and charges by him about this suit and in his behalf expended, at the sum of six cents damages."

The editorial in which The Tribune attacked Henry Ford and branded him as an anarchist was printed in 1916.
The case has been fought through several courts on one point or another ever since, finally arriving through a change of venue asked by The Tribune to Mt. Clemens.

The charge which Judge Tucker made to the jury dealt mainly with the laws of libel and contained among others, the following points:

"The Tribune claims that they carefully inquired as to what Mr. Ford's attitude was going to be as to the care of his men who joined the national guard and that they based the editorial characterizing him as an anarchist on that information. They admit the publication and insist that it was true and therefore justified; and that even if not true it was fair comment upon a matter of public interest, either of which defenses are sufficient if proven true. The burden, however, is upon the defense when they attempt to make either of the defenses mentioned. They must establish either the truth of the charge they made, or that it was fair comment within the meaning of that term."

"A newspaper has the same right as an individual to its opinions and convictions—no more and no less."

The court further informed the jury that if they found that the charge was true they must find for the plaintiff.
He declared that there was nothing ambiguous about the editorial. It called Mr. Ford an anarchist and the only way the defendant could escape being found guilty of libel was to prove that charge. He said further that the jury must accept the popular conception of the meaning of the term
"anarchist."

Counsel for The Chicago Tribune made no effort to appeal the case and accepted the verdict as it stood.

SHOFAR IN HEBREW RITUAL

Wood Instrument Dates Back to the Very Earliest Youth of the World.

Hebrew historians, with a special eye for ear, to the racial history, are very proud of their shofar. They say it is the oldest form of wood wind instrument in the world, that it was used in the original Mosaic ritual.
It is the one musical instrument, says Dr. Cyrus Adler, which has been preserved unbrokenly in that ritual.

There is even a theory, voiced by Professor Steinthal, that the shofar antedates the people of Israel. He says it probably goes back to prehistoric times. And another investigator points out that it obviously came first from a folk solely dependent on the growing of sheep.

This ancient ram's horn instrument was perhaps earliest used for the signals of alarm which were so necessarily common in primitive society.
The Israelites then adapted it to their religious services, and with such fitting effect that it has persisted uniquely since the beginning.

But the Talmud indicates that, even among the Hebrews, the shofar was also developed into a horn for giving alarms. Fundamentally the alarms would be incidental to war.
Afterward, though, the instrument was blown in other seasons of danger or distress. It warned of famine or of a plague of locusts or of drought. And it was employed in the public service of excommunication.

The children of Israel had other horns which were used for musical and ritualistic purposes, but this is the only one which has survived.

WHAT MIRO READ AT SCHOOL

Youngster's Initiation Into Culture
Was Made "Almost a Religious Mystery."

At school Miro was early impressed with the vast dignity of the literary works and names he was compelled to learn. Shakespeare and Goethe and Dante lifted their plaster heads frowningly above the teacher's as they perched on shelves about the room. Much was said of the greatness of literature.
But the art of phonetics and the complications of grammar swamped Miro's early school years. It was not until he reached the high school that literature began really to assume that sacredness which he had heretofore felt only for holy Scripture, Randolph Bourne writes in Yale Review. His initiation into culture was made almost a religious mystery by the conscientious and harassed teacher. As the "Deadwood Boys" and "David Harum" slipped away from Miro's soul in the presence of Milton's "Comus," and Burke's "On Conciliation," a cultural devoutness was engendered in him that never really died. At first it did not take Miro beyond the stage where your conscience is strong enough to make you uncomfortable, but not strong enough to make you do anything about it.
Miro did not actually become an omnivorous reader of great books. But he was filled with a rich grief that the millions pursued cheap and vulgar fiction instead of the best that has been thought and said in the world. Miro indiscriminately bought cheap editions of the English classics and read them with a certain patient uncomprehendingness.

On Chasing Pleasure.

"I don't believe in makin' much exertions after pleasure. I don't believe in chasin' her up." Says I: "Let her come of her own free will." Says I, "You can't catch her by chasin' of her up, no more than you can fetch a shower up in a drouth, by goin' out doors, and runnin' after a cloud up in the heaven above you. Sit down, and be patient, and when it gets ready the refreshin' raindrops will begin to fall without any of your help. And it's just so with pleasure, Josiah Allen: you may chase her up and all over the oceans and big mountains of the world, but she'll keep ahead of you all the time; but set down, and not fatigue yourself a-thinkin' about her, and like as not she will come right into your house unbeknown to you." —From "Josiah Allen's Wife."

Battle for Prohibition.

Hard drinking in England came to be regarded as a grave national danger. In 1735 a London grand jury held the traffic responsible for a great crime wave, and regulation of the liquor business by law was instituted.
Similar experiments were in the meantime being made in America.

The battle in this country against use and abuse of liquor began in a mild way as a protest in pulpits against drunkenness. A New England society went so far as to bind its members not to get drunk except on the Fourth of July and general training days.

Advocates of moderation gave way to those who felt that only total abstinence was the remedy. Then the battle began.

When Romans Ruled Britain.

There is a showcase in the Roman British section of the British museum that contains the discharge certificates given to soldiers in Britain at the time of the Romans. The bronze certificates are quaintly worded, and record the fact that the holders "discharged honorably after 25 years of service," are granted Roman citizenship if not already held, "and the recognition of their marriage with those who are their wives, or in case of unmarried, any wives they may subsequently marry, provided they have one each."

CITY'S PRIDE WELL FOUNDED

Alexandria, Va., Has Right to boast of Her Present as Well as Her Past Glories.

Alexandria, Va., is a thriving little southern city with a historic background. The city can never decide of which it should be proudest—its prosperous present or historic past.
As a rule it divides its pride equally between them. Several times it has been given an opportunity to become part of the District of Columbia and proudly refused.

Alexandrians will show you with equal pride their busy shipyards and harbor and then escort you to one of their ancient landmarks, such as Christ church or the Carlyle house.
Christ church is sacred to the memory of the south's two greatest heroes, Washington and Lee. The Washington and Lee pews in the church are side by side, their names marked by silver plates. Twin mural tablets on the church's wall are inscribed to their memory. The chancel rail is the one before which they knelt, the tablets of the Lord's prayer and Apostle's Creed were there in Washington's time. In the vestry room relics of the heroes are preserved—the record of their purchase of their pews, the Bible and the long handled purse used in Washington's time for the offerings.

The congress of Alexandria met in the old Carlyle house, over twenty years before the battle of Lexington was fought. It was the first protest against "taxation without representation" held in Virginia. It was in this same old mansion that the Braddock expedition was decided upon. Washington was a frequent visitor to the house. His diary has often the words:
"Lodged at Col. Carlyle's."

OLD LAW ON STATUTE BOOKS

If British Judges Were Guided by It There Would Be Some Confusion
in the "Island Empire."

Many curious acts of parliament still remain on the statute book, remarks the London Daily Mail. Every little while these appear in the courts, but as the British judges decide cases more by the public interest than by the law they cause very little trouble.

Three acts have been quoted this week. One referred to an act of George II., which allowed the landlord to charge a tenant he wished to leave his premises double rent.
The plaintiff claimed, but lost his
case.

Another was a claim by the admiralty for freight on bullion carried from South Africa on a warship. This claim was decided in favor of the bankers, who got their freight free owing to an act that was passed in 1815 for the purpose of stopping the abuse of the privilege of conveying bullion in king's ships by the commercial community.

An act that is still enforced is one of James I., dated 1424, a Scottish statute. It reads:

"If any mine of gold or silver be found in any lord's lands of the realm and it may be proved that three half-pennies of silver may be fined out of the pound of lead, the lords of parliament consent that such mine may be the king's, as is usual of other realms."

Weather Signs.

People living near the seashore say a storm is "brewing" when the air is salty, caused by the wind blowing from the east.

A red or copper-colored sun or moon indicates great heat. A silvery moon denotes clear, cool weather.

The old Indian sign of a dry month was when the ends of the new moon were nearly horizontal and one of them resembled a hook on which to hang his powder horn.

Many people troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia usually are excellent barometers and can predict changeable weather by "feeling it in their bones."

And the advice of the old weather sage is "never go out during April month without being accompanied by your umbrella."

As to Punctuation.

With all that may be said about punctuation its use is pretty well asserted part and parcel of the writer as are the words of the text. To one man a comma is merely "a breathing," and he puts one in where a reader would seem to need to pause for breath; whereas to others a comma is rather a handy mark for setting off a word or clause that is to a degree somewhat apart in form or sense from the direct implication of the sentence. All of which brings to mind the words of that very practical schoolmaster who was the first to say to his class, "The best rule of all for punctuation is to put in punctuation marks only where, without them, the meaning would be in doubt."

Prevention and Cure.

Jenkins lived in a flat and the man below was learning to play the trombone.

He was surprised and a little flattered when Jenkins came down to borrow the instrument. He lent it willingly, and told Jenkins he could have it any time he wanted it. Jenkins took full advantage of the offer. He was always borrowing that trombone.

"What do you borrow it for?" asked Jenkins' wife. "You can't play it."

"I know," said Jenkins cheerfully.
"Nor can that fellow downstairs while I've got it."

The Vedda of Ceylon.

Students have long been interested in the Australian aborigine, the African bushman, and the Ceylonese Vedda. The Veddas are recorded as far back as 543 B. C., and their customs and beliefs are thought to have changed but little since the stone age.
But the Veddas, on report of a traveler recently returned from the wilds of Ceylon, are reaching the end of this peculiar interest. For now "hardly a Vedda faithful to the traditions of his ancestry survives: not one perhaps, that wears leaves for clothing."

and depends for subsistence solely on the products of the jungle." The bow and arrow are still sometimes used, but have been largely supplanted by old-fashioned muzzle-loading guns, and the skillful archery for which the Veddas were notable has become a lost art. In this Ceylon jungle a few typical Veddas are left, but these are isolated specimens. In any circumstances it has been held that the Veddas are incapable of civilization.
But then that depends, of course, on what is meant by civilization.
